

SUPPLEMENT TO 1929 ELECTORAL ROLL FOR FCT & PEOPLE WHO HAVE LEFT THE TERRITORY FORMERLY ON THE ROLL

FOR THE ELECTION OF THE THIRD COMMISSIONER

Following the arrival of the Public Servants in 1927 there was a growing movement to enable people to have a say in local affairs. Following the formation of the Federal Capital Territory in 1911 the people who lived in the territory lost their right to vote for local government and Federal. In particular the rule by Sir John Butters (First Commissioner) was criticized by many. Canberra Times 14.9.1928 reported that: A Bill was introduced in Parliament yesterday to provide for representation of residents of the FCT on the Federal Capital Commission. It was proposed that three Commissioners should be appointed, the third to be elected by the ratepayers only of the Territory and that the salary should not exceed 250 pounds per annum. John Butters resigned towards the end of 1929 and a new First Commissioner and Second Commissioner were appointed. The Third Commissioner, elected by the people in essence was deprived of any real powers and was not even informed of proposed developments on many occasions with the result that each of the Third Commissioners elected resigned shortly after their election.

The last Third Commissioner Dr RM Alcorn the Third Commissioner of the Federal Capital Commission forwarded his resignation to the Minister for Home Affairs in November 1929. The Canberra Times 29 November 1929 followed with another article:

The Third Commissioner (DR RM Alcorn) will withdraw his resignation and attend all meetings of the Commission as a result of the unanimous opinion expressed last night at a representative meeting of citizens at Hotel Canberra.

The following motion moved by Mr RG Evans and seconded by Mr Crapp President of the Citizen's League) was carried unanimously, ' That in view of the fact that the office of Third Commissioner is our only connecting link with the local government of the Territory, and in order that the Government shall not hastily form a measure of self government for the Federal Capital Territory we consider that Dr Alcorn should not forfeit the right of the people to representation until the revised form of Government is ready for acceptance.

Shortly after Parliament dissolved the Federal Capital Commission and this body was replaced with an Advisory Committee that had elected members, but whose decisions could be overturned by the other government appointed members of the Council and/or the Minister for the Department of the Interior.

Following is an additional list of people eligible to vote. It is followed by a short list of people who were on earlier roll but now left the territory.

The 1929 Electoral Roll consisted of only people eligible to vote - ie Head of Household & Rate Payer
